

Celab Communications AB recruit's new regional manager in Stockholm.

Fredrik Lundmark has recently been appointed regional manager. Besides managing daily operations, he will also work to further develop our relationship with the public transportation industry.

Fredrik recently worked within public transportation, where he had been since 2010 when got the appointed to implement IT in vehicles at Nobina. The assignment gave him a taste for the industry and its importance for society and he has since worked for several major players with a variety of projects. Before that Fredrik worked in telecommunications for two decades. His experience ranges from engineering, project management, product development and business development from both fixed and mobile telephony. Employers include several service providers like Telia, Tele2 and Ericsson, where he began his career.

Fredrik considers mission critical communications to be a natural extension of his previous experiences. "It's going to be really fun to be a part of such a talented bunch and I'm really looking forward to using my experiences to contribute to our continued success and the development of both current and new areas", says Fredrik Lundmark.

More recruitments

Jan Andersson has been recruited to develop sales of our growing portfolio of proprietary management support solutions, initially in the Nordics. He will also support the rest of the sales department during more extensive and complex projects. Jan has more than 20 years of experience from project sales within B2B, mainly from Spinner, a leader in the development and sales of RF technology.

Joackim Dyhre has been hired as sales representative and replaces Bengt-Olof Skoog, who retired earlier this year. Joackim will primarily work with sales in the Småland and Östergötland regions in Sweden. He has more than 25 years of experience of product sales, most recently from Tele Radio, that sell remote control solutions for industrial use.
